

PokéTFT

Isle Of Imagination

Concept

Pokemon is a diverse ecosystem

- ★ Don't just breakdown by type
- ★ Want a wide range of pokemon across regions
- ★ Which pokemon would be found together?
- ★ What are their environments like?
- ★ How would X pokemon move/attack?
- ★ How to translate pokemon moves/abilities/feel to autochess?

Unit ideology

Units should feel natural

- ★ Walls = Tanks
- ★ Physical Sweepers = Melee carries
- ★ Special breakers = Ranged Casters
- ★ What are their iconic moves? Motifs?
- ★ What “feels” like a 1 cost? A 5 cost?

Misty terrain - qss

Psychic terrain adept or mana reave

Grassy terrain -, small heal every few seconds

Electric terrain - all units gain 30% tenacity and some adaptive force

notes

Had to do a lot of shifting - originally eggy had aoe, before armerouge camerupt was a ranged 4 cost, but blastoise and toucannon already existed so made marowak a 4 cost (he was originally a 3 cost), weezing was 3 cost but wanted another 4 cost tank, need more 3 cost tank, armerouge was a caster but wanted more AA carries that worked well with attack speed, needed to readjust number of 3 and 4 costs, because of low unit cost wanted to have more even variety of unit types across costs (ie 3 most melee carries, 4 cost ranged, tanks), h-archanine was a 2 cost, tapu lele and koko need to be inherently stronger bacse

Health is $\times 1.8$ the previous, ad is $\times 1.5$ the previous per star level

Talk about where inspiration came from, units, pokemon moves, pikachu, pledge moves

notes

Generation system, have it pull pokemon from somewhere, trying to get ones that match or just strong, preferring ones that they own/share similar traits with, build them up as json files or something, turn by turn by offering them what would be available at the time, building boards at different strengths per round to build up database of “board progressions”, i should be able to review in some UI clearly

Maybe make gible volcano and cave,
